

9 Things That Only 2000s Kids Will Remember

Description

Over the weekend we saw the amazing community that is twitter once again remind us that kids do actually rule the internet.

Let me take you back a time, where Heelys were more important than the next iPhone, or candy crush. Where parents didn't really know what the internet was about and kids were left to figure it out for themselves, and when computer classes were the most lit because you got to play games like the purple place or Skifree once you were done mucking about in excel and word.

#TweetLikeThe2000s brings back all those memories you once had forgotten in a nostalgic thread of hilarity and at times frustration – can't we go back to a time when My Chemical Romance was the trending band and not The Chainsmokers

When you had to leave for a doctors appointment and come back stunting on everybody w McDonalds??s ?#TweetLikeThe2000s pic.twitter.com/M0fcCTH2sl
